Learning To Dance

I grew up in the 1930s going to these halls with my parents [Hail the Halls, February 2019]. That's how I learned to danceon Daddy's toes and watching my parents having fun. My sister and I would run and play, then when it got late, fall asleep under the benches on a quilt listening to the music.

Anhalt Hall still looks just the same and is continuing the tradition today. Thanks for bringing it all back. DOROTHY ALVES RODGERS | SCHERTZ GUADALUPE VALLEY EC

I was amused by the part that said Hank Wilson got his start in Texas dance halls. My reaction was that somewhere in the great beyond, Leon Russell is smiling. Russell chose that name for his first country album, Hank Wilson's Back, in 1973. I always appreciated that clever move to combine the last names of the two country music Hanks. Williams and Thompson. STEVE FINLAY | LORENA HEART OF TEXAS EC

Editor's note: The reference to Hank Wilson, which was in error, has been corrected to Hank Williams in the online version of the story.

My two favorites are (of course) the archetypal, venerable Gruene Hall in New Braunfels and Schroeder Hall near Fannin. I've heard a lot of good music

Texas' First Flag

I don't see the first flag of the Republic of Texas [A Chapter in La Bahia's History, Currents, February 2019]. In fact, the only place I've ever seen it depicted as our flag is on the Texas State Historical Association website.

It perplexes me that the flag originally authorized by Texas' first Congress is everywhere ignored: "an azure ground with a large golden star central." Our present flag didn't fly over Texas until January 1839. JERRE CONDER | VAN ZANDT COUNTY TRINITY VALLEY EC

San Jacinto Revisited

The largest battle re-enactment in the state is the centerpiece of the SAN JACINTO DAY FESTIVAL, APRIL 13, on the grounds surrounding the San Jacinto Monument in LA PORTE. The re-enactment portrays the events leading up to Texas winning its independence from Mexico at the decisive Battle of San Jacinto on April 21, 1836.

Visitors can wander among the Mexican and Texian camps to learn what soldiers and their families experienced before the battle. At 3 p.m., the official (and historically accurate) re-enactment of the Battle of San Jacinto—considered the largest re-enactment in the Southwest—begins.

Campbell's Soup estimates 20 million households served the Thanksgiving staple green bean casserole last year. Dorcas Reilly, a Campbell's employee, came up with the simple, sixingredient recipe in 1955. When Campbell's began putting the recipe on cans of its cream of mushroom soup in 1960, the dish's popularity took off. Reilly, 92, died in October 2018.

■ LOOKING BACK AT MUSIC THIS MONTH

capturing texas' rich music culture in two pages is impossible. Heck, multiple books have been written about Willie Nelson alone. We'll just try to hit the high notes.

1940s

1946 Bob Wills and His Texas Playboys release their biggest hit, New Spanish Two Step, which spends 16 weeks at No. 1 on the country chart.

1946 Clifton Chenier designs the first frottoir, or zydeco washboard, with Willie Landry in Port Arthur.

1950s

1953 Willie Mae "Big Mama" Thornton of Houston releases the song Hound Dog, which later becomes a hit for Elvis Presley.

1956 Perryville's Ray Price releases Crazy Arms, which spends 20 weeks at No. 1 on the country chart.

1958 Pianist Van Cliburn, from Kilgore, achieves worldwide recognition when he wins the inaugural International Tchaikovsky Competition in Moscow.

1960s

1960 He'll Have To Go by Panola County's Jim Reeves reaches No. 1 on the charts.

POWER OF OUR PEOPLE

Beatons Bag Attention of Co-ops Nationwide

HUNTER BEATON has won two national awards from the Boy Scouts and one from the Daughters of the American Revolution on top of the support that comes with a Texas Senate proclamation. It's all for his Day 1 Bags initiative, which started as an Eagle Scout project but has grown to provide thousands of foster children with duffel bags brimming with clothes, toothbrushes and other supplies during what can be a tough transition.

'THERE'S NO ERASER'

Joe Huerta III started as a groundman at Medina EC, based in Hondo, in 2003with "zero knowledge in this field," he says-and worked his way up to become a journeyman lineworker.

"My cousin was a lineman for Medina EC, and every time we hung out, he would tell me stories about his job," Huerta says. "I was told the job was hard, the hours were long, and the work was underappreciated. At the end of the day, the work of a lineman is a great way to provide for your family, to feel proud of a skill that you earn and continually learn throughout the years, and a great way to give back to the community."

Today, Huerta is the safety and loss control manager at Nueces EC in Robstown, where the co-op will join others nationwide to celebrate Lineman Appreciation Day on April 8. Huerta is responsible for maintaining a culture of safety among the lineworkers.

"In lineman's work, there's no eraser," Huerta says. "Once something happens ... that could be it."

HOW TO MAKE TRAVEL BE ABOUT THE EXPERIENCE, NOT THE DESTINATION

What MOVES WOU?

We typically think of transportation simply as a means to get from one place to another—a way to take a trip. Sometimes, though, a trip becomes as much about the way you travel as where you go.

Hit the road on a bicycle, and you get a completely different perspective than riding in a car along the same route. The scenery looks vastly different from a small boat on the water, where a river sets your route and speed, than from the shore. Aircraft a few thousand feet high offer a view you can't get any other way, along with the singular combination of the quiet of the sky and the thrill of speed. A horse not only goes places no road can, it also provides pleasant company along the way; plus, a horse does most of the work for you.

These experiences can be had across Texas, on your own or with established outfitters. Here are four excellent adventures featuring alternate modes of transport to get you started, along with suggestions for other opportunities that will move you.

TWO WHEELS

othing beats sightseeing from a bicycle. Pedaling down a country road, you feel the breeze on your face and sun on your skin, smell the grass and flowers, and hear the birds and rustling leaves. A bike makes it easy to stop and linger or take a scenic detour. All that plus some exercise, too.

All you really need is a bike and back roads with light traffic. But on a guided tour, someone else figures out the route, packs the snacks and even brings the bicycle. Texas Bike Tours creates custom itineraries for guided bike rides throughout the Hill Country, from a few hours to a few days. Owner Deaton Bednar says one popular route goes from Fredericksburg to Comfort.

Elizabeth and Daniel Piercey, from England, cycle around Fredericksburg, opposite. Afterward, they visit with Urban Herbal owner and chef Bill Varney, above.

Wendy and Kevin Parker of Houston spent a half day making the 32-mile ride, complete with a picnic and plenty of other stops. Their daughter Kennedy, 5, came along in a bike trailer. Elizabeth and Daniel Piercey booked their cycling trip with Texas Bike Tours.

"My husband and I love to bike and wanted to expose our daughter to biking somewhere outside of the city," Wendy says. "We spread trips up to 60 miles over four or five days, riding around Fredericksburg and out through the Hill Country. Deaton even let my daughter jump into the van when Kevin got tired of pulling her."

That's another benefit of a guided tour: the sag wagon. One followed the Parkers the entire way and took the family's luggage to Camp Comfort, where they spent the night. Their route followed scenic ranch roads along the Pedernales River, past old log cabins, farms, alpacas, donkeys and goats. The last leg into Comfort provided impressive views and a roller coaster of small hills, ending with lunch at High's Café & Store.

"We totally had a blast," Wendy says. They plan to do another trip once Kennedy can ride her own bike, counting on the sag wagon option.

From their home in England, Elizabeth and Daniel Piercey plan annual walking holidays to remote parts of Europe. They discovered Texas a couple of years ago when they added a few extra days to a Houston business trip. "We have to admit that we discovered the allure of Texas quite by chance," Daniel says.

"Cycling in the Hill Country gave us a chance to slow down, relax, see the country at closer range and spend some time with (and get to know) a few locals," he says. "Texans, so we've heard, like to talk, and we found this to be true. Maybe it is the lack of hurry, but people seem happy to share their thoughts."

Those seeking a shorter taste of two-wheeled sightseeing can pedal miles of roads and trails at Resaca de la Palma State Park near Brownsville, where bike rentals are available. If it's all about miles and speed, Bike Night at Circuit of the Americas near Austin turns riders loose on the 3.4-mile, 20-turn racetrack from 6 p.m. until dark every Tuesday, March until July. Participants must register on-site or online, and rentals are available.

A HULL

ravelers flock to San Antonio to see its famous River Walk. Those who stay on the shores of the San Antonio River are missing the boat.

The San Antonio River Authority and partners have been restoring the river south of downtown, returning natural contours and planting thousands of trees, shrubs and wildflowers. Enjoy the results in a kayak rented from Mission Adventure Tours at Espada Park or the King William District, on routes of 2, 3 or 4 miles, on your own or guided.

Teresa Maslonka has paddled with Mission Adventure Tours several times. "The amount of wild-

Kayaking the San Antonio River includes thrilling chutes, above, and the serene waters of Espada Park, below. ness incorporated into this city is phenomenal," she says. "On the river, you're in the city but feel like you're away from it. We saw all different kinds of birds, turtles and other wildlife, and it is so different from being on the sidewalk looking at the river."

A guided trip not only puts those without experience at ease, but the guides also share knowledge about the river's abundant wildlife. Single- and two-person kayaks are available and friendly dogs welcomed.

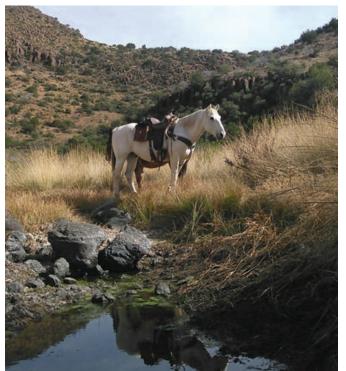

A more urban experience awaits on one of Go Rio Cruises' San Antonio River Walk rides. Thirty-five-minute tours depart from several spots along the River Walk every 15 minutes from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m. daily, and food and drinks are welcome aboard. Boat captains point out the sights in this historic-meets-modern area: the former circa-1850 school for boys, now the Omni La Mansión del Rio River Walk hotel; the Hyatt Regency San Antonio hotel, designed to avoid casting a shadow on the nearby Alamo; the first restaurant to offer riverside dining, now available at dozens of establishments; and a series of bridges spanning the river.

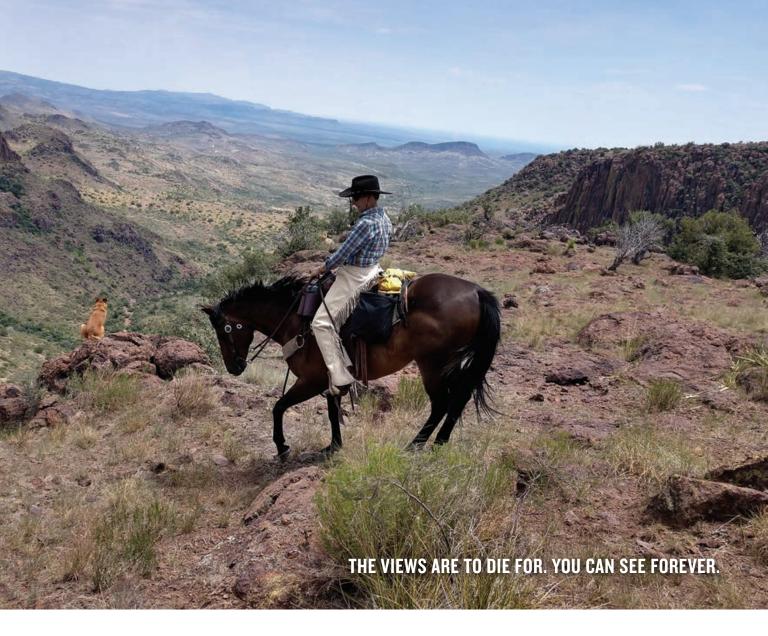

Go Rio also offers a boat shuttle service with 13 designated stops, from downtown through the Museum Reach section of the river north of downtown to the Pearl District. The shuttle offers a great way to see the sights, including a lock-and-dam system that takes a boat about seven minutes to go through.

You can experience other Texas cities from the water as well. Get a boat's-eye view of the birds and marine life of Galveston Bay and its historic port with Galveston Harbor Tours, and see the bustling maritime industry along the Houston Ship Channel on the Sam Houston Boat Tour's free 90-minute voyage. Rent a kayak or canoe at Backwoods Paddlesports to see the Fort Worth skyline from the Trinity River.

s the sun sets over the toothy horizon of the Davis Mountains, riders finish up their supper and gather around a campfire. The swish of horses' tails blends with the crackle of the fire and rustle of the breeze. Stars fill the expanse of sky above and invite lingering, but soon the lure of cushy bedrolls proves too much. After all, tomorrow brings another full day of riding with Texas Horseback Adventures, based in Alpine.

"Every day out there, it's the best thing, the sheer beauty of the property and the amazing opportunity to ride through it," says Margaret O'Donnell, who has taken a number of overnight trips. "It is so relaxing to come back in the evening to sit and watch the horses then the sunset and eat a beautiful meal. People are stunned by the beauty of the skies and sunsets out here."

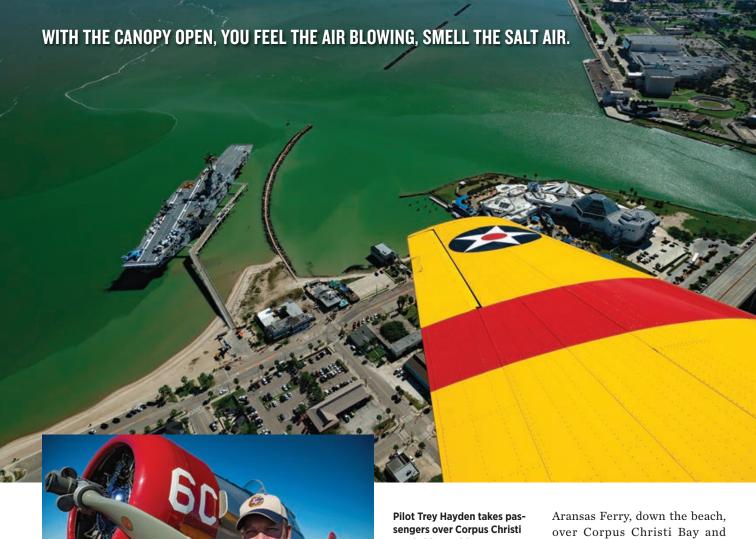

Opportunities like this ride on the open range, where you can disappear into a landscape with no trails or fences, are few

Ventures on horseback around Alpine offer solitude and stunning views. and far between. Riders spend the night at cow camps on a vast ranch, striking out each day to explore the terrain of canyons, peaks and open country. Owner and guide Missy Cantrell chooses routes based on riders' experience and desires and says it's all about giving them an authentic experience. Days include about six hours of riding, with a break for lunch with a view.

Along the way, riders see native plants, roadrunners and other wildlife, and signs of mountain lions and bears. "We saw mule deer and javelina and heard coyotes at night," O'Donnell says. "The views are to die for. You can see forever."

Days in the saddle and nights in a tepee aren't for everyone, of course. Those with a hankering for just a few hours astride a steed have many options around the state, including guided rides with Elm Creek Stables near Garner State Park with views of the Frio River canyon. A PAIR OF WINGS rom 1,000 feet in the air, the world looks bigger and cleaner, its flaws less visible. Soaring above Mustang Island, the wide ribbon of sand and colorful clusters of people, umbrellas, chairs and beach towels become a work of art. Waves in the Gulf of Mexico draw sparkling lines of white, and ships on the blue water look like toys.

Texan Warbird Adventures offers this unique perspective from a World War II-era Navy T-6 Texan, a low-wing, opencockpit plane known as "the pilot maker" for its role preparing pilots for combat. Retired Navy pilot and private aviation enthusiast Trey Hayden and his wife, Brandie, bought the plane about four years ago and started the tour company to share the thrill of flight, the history of the aircraft and Corpus Christi's connection to military flying. George H.W. Bush, Neil Armstrong and John McCain all passed through Naval Air Station Corpus Christi.

Local resident Barry Phillips celebrated a recent birthday with a T-6 tour, flying over the Intracoastal Waterway and Port Bay in his World War II-era open-cockpit plane.

downtown, past the iconic Harbor Bridge and USS Lexington aircraft carrier, now a museum.

"Over the beach, you can see people playing in the surf and on the sand. The sand was white and the water was clear and green," Phillips says. "We made a few circles over the Lexington and saw the same type of plane as the one we were in parked on the deck, a bright yellow one."

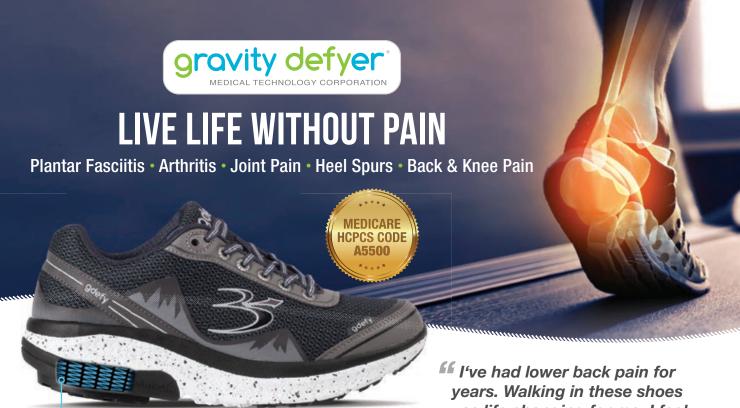

"The open cockpit is the coolest thing. With the canopy open, you feel the air blowing, smell the salt air," says Patrick Kaufer, another recent passenger. "It is very enjoyable and different. You get to see something that not a lot of people get to see. The Lexington, as big as it is, looks tiny from the air."

More than 600 T-6 Texans still ply the skies, but only a few offer rides to the public. "I loved the idea of riding in an old plane," Phillips says. "It looked like something out of a museum, but it's clear the Haydens take wonderful care of it. Their love of what they're doing really shows."

MEDICAL BREAKTHROUGH

Dr. Steven Battaglia Board Certified Ear, Nose and Throat Surgeon

MDHearingAid Makes Hearing Aids Affordable for Everyone

Advanced Hearing Aid Technology For Less Than $200

Too many people with hearing loss go without a solution because they can't afford hearing aid prices. As a practicing Ear Nose and Throat Surgeon, Dr. Steven Battaglia has seen first-hand the hardships people suffer when they have hearing loss. That's why he jumped at the opportunity to join MDHearingAid in their quest to make FDA-registered, high quality hearing aids available to everyone who needs one.

"MDHearingAid has done an incredible service for the millions of people suffering from hearing loss, but can't afford high-priced hearing aids," states Dr. Battaglia.

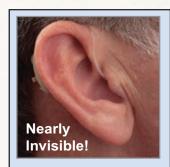

It's Nearly Invisible One of the most important requirements for the new line of hearing aids would be for the device to be hard for others to see. One of the biggest objections people have to wearing a hearing aid is that they are embarrassed. MDHearingAid's design helps people get past this concern.

FDA-Registered Hearing Aid Outperforms Competitors

The new medical-grade hearing aid is called MDHearingAid PRO®. It is sleek, lightweight, and full of the same advanced technology found in higher-priced devices, but at a small fraction of the price. MDHearingAid couldn't understand why technology based products kept coming down in price, like computers, TVs, and DVD players, but not hearing aids. Once MDHearingAid was able to produce a device that costs less than $200, the industry was turned upside down.

So How Did They Do It?

Since about 95% of the people who need a hearing aid only require a few settings, MDHearingAid PRO® simplified the need for certain variable components not needed by most people. This also makes it so easy for people to try the product, because no prescription is needed, even though it's an FDA-registered, medical-grade hearing aid.

SAME FEATURES AS EXPENSIVE HEARING AID COMPETITORS

- ✓ Behind-the-ear hearing aid with thin tubing for a nearly invisible profile
- ✓ Accommodates Mild, Moderate, and Moderately Severe hearing loss
- Amplifies the critical frequencies of the human voice, without amplifying background sounds, so you can enjoy crisp, clear conversations
- Multiple sized Open-Fit & Closed-Fit ear domes allow for the perfect size for your ears.
- 2-Program toggle switch for customized hearing. Decrease background noise and choose the best program for your hearing loss.

45-Day Risk-Free Trial. You can try it at home and if you're not completely satisfied, just return it. It's that simple. They even provide Free Shipping and Batteries.

Doctors & Patients Agree: "BEST QUAILITY SOUND" "LOWEST AFFORDABLE PRICE"

"I previously owned a $2,200 aid and I am much more satisfied with my MDHearingAid than I ever was with my 'custom fit' aid. Being a pianist, I can quickly change the program to Normal and roll the volume all the way down. I haven't enjoyed playing my piano this much in years!" – James B.

"I have a $2,000 ReSound® Live Hearing aid in my left ear and the MDHearingAid PRO® in the right ear. I am not able to notice a significant difference in sound quality between the two." – Dr. May, ENT Physician

Man and nature collaborate to create a glamorous green ring guaranteed to rock her world! Own it today for ONLY $99 plus FREE studs with ring purchase!

n May 18, 1980, Mount St. Helens erupted, sending a column of ash and smoke 80,000 feet into the atmosphere. From that chaos, something beautiful emerged—our spectacular Spirit Lake Helenite Ring.

Created from the superheated volcanic rock dust of the historic Mount St. Helens eruption, helenite has become the green stone of choice for jewelry and fashion designers worldwide. Helenite's vivid color and immaculate clarity rivals mined emeralds that can sell for as much as $3,000 per carat. Today you can wear this 4-carat stunner for only $99!

EXCLUSIVE Helenite Studs -a $129 valuewith purchase of Spirit Lake Ring

Our exclusive design highlights the visually stunning stone with a concave cut set in .925 sterling silver loaded with brilliant white, lab-created DiamondAura®. The classic pairing of colors in a vintageinspired setting makes for a statement ring that's simply impossible

Beauty from the beast. Also known as "America's Emerald," helenite is not an emerald at all, but a brighter and clearer green stone that gem cutters can facet into spectacular large carat weight jewelry. "It's just recently that luxury jewelers have fallen in love with helenite," says James Fent, GIA Graduate Gemologist. "Clear green color in a stone this size is rarely found in emeralds but helenite has come to the rescue."

Your satisfaction is 100% guaranteed. Bring home the Spirit Lake Helenite Ring and see for yourself. If you are not completely blown away by the exceptional beauty of this rare American stone, simply return the ring within 30 days for a full refund of the item price. It's that simple. But we're betting that once you slide this gorgeous green beauty on your finger, it will take a force of nature to get you two apart!

Your Money Stays at Home

Who owns your electricity provider?

MESSAGE FROM
GENERAL MANAGER/CEO JEFF LANE

IF YOU'RE A MEMBER OF TRINITY VALLEY ELECTRICCooperative you can find a co-op owner by looking in the mirror.

At TVEC—like all cooperatives everywhere—you, the members, are the owners. That's the philosophy of Cooperative Principle No. 3: Members' Economic Participation.

Being an owner, however, doesn't mean that you can drive to your neighborhood substation and take home a transformer or chop down a pole carrying wires to your house. These assets are owned collectively by all of us. A portion of the bill you pay each month goes into building and maintaining the infrastructure—poles, wires, substations and more—that bring you a steady supply of electricity.

Your cooperative does business locally. The investments we make in infrastructure benefit people who live and work right here in our communities—not those in faraway places.

Your payments do more than build power lines, buy equipment and pay for wholesale electricity. They also pay the salaries of our hardworking employees, who also happen to be your neighbors, friends and family. They, in turn, spend their salaries at local businesses, spreading that money around and helping our economy stay healthy.

At the end of each year, any revenue that exceeds the co-op's expenses is allocated to your capital credit account based on the amount of electricity you purchased. These funds are then used to support operating activities in the upcoming year, including the building and maintenance of the cooperatives infrastructure. Your capital credit account reflects your ownership in the company, and you can take pride in every pole, truck and mile of line we operate.

When the Cooperative's financial condition allows, the board of directors authorizes payment of those capital credits back to you, the member. In the last 10 years, TVEC has paid more than $32 million in capital credits back to its members.

Capital credits are to our members what dividends are to stockholders in forprofit companies. But instead of making profits, our goal is to provide you with electricity at a price that is as close to cost as possible. That way, more of your money stays in your pocket.

When you pay your TVEC electric bill, you are not filling the coffers of a big, profit-making company. You are simply paying for electricity, and you are getting it from a business where your friends and neighbors work to provide you with the highest level of service they can while keeping your costs as low as possible.

That's the cooperative difference.

YOUTH TOUR WINNERS

Timothy Bogan

Tutu Bodede

Two Crandall High School students take top essay honors to win "trip of a lifetime"

Of all the entries for the 2019 Government-in-Action Youth Tour contest, it was two Crandall High School students whose essays were the winners. CHS senior Timothy Bogan and junior Tutu Bodede achieved the two best scores from independent judges and will enjoy a nine-day trip to Austin and Washington D.C. for their efforts. 49857673001

The pair will join more than 150 other Texas students in Austin before heading to D.C. for a week of educational opportunities, interaction with government officials, co-op related events and sight-seeing.

In his entry, Bogan noted that he was excited to see the country's founding documents and visit the Smithsonian Institution museums.

"I revere our founding documents and national institutions, "Bogan said. "The importance of America's Constitution cannot be overstated."

Bodede is keen to dig into United States history in a place history is made every day.

"U.S. history allows us to reflect upon the consequences—both good and bad—of other people's actions," she said. "It is then up to us to decide which actions are worth continuing and which are better left in the past."

The Youth Tour event was started in 1957, inspired by U.S. Senator Lyndon Johnson, who expressed a desire for young people to, "actually see what the flag stands for and represents."

Tools of the Trade

ON MONDAY, APRIL 8, NATIONAL LINEMAN APPRECIATION DAY,

Trinity Valley Electric Cooperative honors the employees who keep the lights on. You see them stationed in the sky, in the partial enclosure of a truck's bucket, working diligently to maintain lines and restore power after a storm. What may not be evident from the ground, though, is all the equipment a lineworker needs to do his or her job safely.

A lineman's personal protective equipment includes:

- ▶ Fire-resistant clothing that self-extinguishes, limiting injuries from burns.
- ▶ Insulated rubber gloves, often worn with a pair of leather gloves over them to prevent punctures to the rubber beneath.
- ▶ Insulated hard hats worn at all times for protection from falling objects.
 - ▶ Steel-toe boots that prevent gouges.
- ▶ Safety goggles that protect against loose debris and other hazards when working on electric lines and rights-of-way.

Linemen also may wear equipment belts, tool pouches, safety straps and other equipment. Those additional items usually weigh about 50 pounds altogether, a heavy burden while negotiating hazardous conditions 40 feet in the air. surrounded by dangerously high voltage.

A less obvious component of the lineworker's experience is all the time and training that goes into preparing for the job. Classroom training programs last a few months, followed by intensive, years-long apprenticeships that continue training on the job, ensuring that journeyman linemen are ultimately experts at what they do.

Next time you see a lineworker, be sure to thank him or her for their time and dedication in honing this vital skill, along with their selfless application of it in service to our community. Our lives would be pretty dim without them!

April 22 Is Earth Day

EARTH DAY—AN ANNUAL CELEBRATION OF THE ENVIRONMENT—IS A GOOD TIME TO resolve to save some energy around your home. You can start this month by:

Paying your bills online. You'll save paper, stamps and time.

Caulking around windows and doors to seal air leaks and adding insulation to your attic. Both will prevent air-conditioned air from escaping your house through the roof this summer.

Taking shorter showers and using a water-saving showerhead.

Unplugging the TV, stereo, computer, cellphone chargers and other electronics when you're not using them.

Running your dishwasher and clothes washer only when they're full to save water and energy.

Replacing your old thermostat with a programmable model. You could save up to 10 percent on cooling and heating with these devices, according to the U.S. Department of Energy.

Investing in LED light fixtures. You'll save energy and you won't have to replace any lightbulbs for up to 10 years. If changing out fixtures isn't practical, use LED bulbs and be sure to turn off the lights when you leave a room.

Lowering your water heater's temperature to 120 degrees. Wrap your storage tank in a blanket designed to keep it warm so it will use less energy to heat the water.

Washing clothes in cold water. You could save more than $60 a year.

Switching to Energy Star-rated appliances, fans and electronics. Using Energy Starcertified products throughout your home could save you nearly $750 over the lifetime of the products.

Replacing your air conditioner's filters before the cooling season begins. Clean filters help the system operate more efficiently.

Putting off using the air conditioner, especially at night, until the weather gets hotter. Open windows instead and let the spring breeze into your house to keep you cool.

Test Your Power Line Safety Knowledge

TRUE OR FALSE? POWER LINES ARE

insulated to allow safe contact.

False. While some power lines may have a covering to protect against weather, they are NOT insulated for contact. Birds can sit on power lines unhurt because they don't represent a path to the ground. You and your ladder do.

TRUE OR FALSE? I should keep myself and any equipment I'm using at least 10 feet away from any power lines.

True. You don't need to contact a power line to be in danger; electricity can jump, or arc, from a power line to a person who gets too close. The best insulator is lots of space. You should keep yourself and any equipment you're using a minimum of 10 feet away from power lines, but far greater distances are recommended.

TRUE OR FALSE? I can be electrocuted by a power line even if I am wearing gloves and rubber boots.

True. Work gloves and rubber boots offer no protection against contact with a power line. Once again, space—and lots of it—is the best insulator.

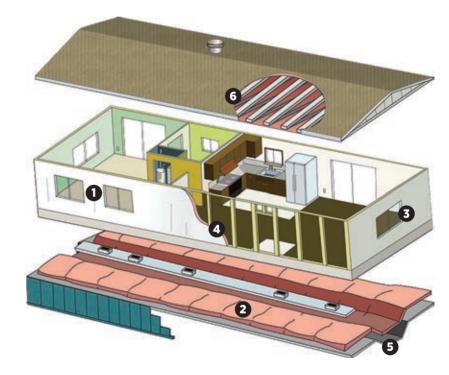

Retrofitting Your Manufactured Home for Energy Efficiency

IF YOU LIVE IN A MANUFACTURED HOME, YOUR FAMILY MAY HAVE A DISPROPORTIONately higher energy bill than a family living in a traditional home.

Fortunately, there are ways to bridge that gap. Whether your home is 5 years old or more than 50, most homes can benefit from energy efficiency measures that make up for simple wear and tear. Sunlight, seasonal temperature changes and wind can cause air leakage. Doors and windows may not close tightly, and ductwork can spring leaks, wasting cooling and heating energy.

If your home was built before 1976, the Department of Energy recommends the following tips for retrofitting your manufactured home for improved energy efficiency:

- Install energy-efficient windows and doors.
- Replace insulation in the belly.
- Make general repairs (seal bottom board and caulk windows, doors and ducts).
- Add insulation to walls.
- Install or seal belly wrap.
- Add insulation to roof or install a roof cap.

In addition to these measures, consider properly sealing any openings around ducts and plumbing fixtures. Replace any incandescent lightbulbs with LEDs-both indoors and out. And reduce "phantom" loads by unplugging electronic devices such as computers, cellphone chargers and gaming systems when not in use. If you are planning to move to a new manufactured home, look for an Energy Star-rated model.

Trinity Valley Electric Cooperative

Worst-Case Scenario

TVEC prepares for grid emergencies with load-shed drill

LIGHTNING, WIND AND TREES

are usually the main culprits for power outages, but in periods of very high demand, the safety and reliability of the whole electric grid can mean reducing the load intentionally.

For electric consumers, that means the possibility of temporary rolling power outages.

While it is truly a worst-case-scenario, electric utilities must be prepared at a moments notice to begin reducing load. To maintain readiness for such cases, Trinity Valley Electric Cooperative participates in occasional training scenarios, with employees going through the same procedures that would be required in an emergency.

TVEC operates distribution lines in two separate grid systems. One is controlled by the Electric Reliability Council of Texas, and the other is part of Southwest Power Pool. For each grid operator, the ability to reduce load quickly can save vital infrastructure from damage.

The summer of 2018 saw record demand on the ERCOT grid, but generating capacity was able to keep up without a need for load reduction.

A number of factors, including population growth, increased reliance on wind energy and the possibility of another scorching hot summer, mean this summer could be another test for the state's electric grid.

Should any load-reduction situations arise, look for up-to-the-minute information through TVEC's communication channels on social media and tvec.net as well as local news organizations.

Win $25 Just for Reading

Somewhere, hidden on Pages 20-25, is a TVEC account number. Read closely. If the account number is yours, contact the Member Services Department by April 30 to receive a $25 credit on your electric bill. Don't miss out—you could be a winner.

Love From Midland

Born in Texas, silent film actress Bessie Love became a star in Hollywood

BY MARTHA DEERINGER

JUANITA HORTON, "THE PRETTIEST GIRL anyone in Midland had ever seen," according to a 2007 article in the Midland Reporter-Telegram, was born in 1898 when Midland was still a barren cow town. The oil boom that would turn it into a thriving metropolis was still a few years in the future. Horton's itinerant father moved the family from Texas to Arizona to New Mexico and finally to Los Angeles where, using the name Bessie Love, teenage Juanita would achieve stardom.

In her 1977 autobiography, From Hollywood With Love, Love described the poverty of her early years and the sequence of events that would gain her the attention of powerful Hollywood figures.

During a visit with the Horton family in Los Angeles, Western movie star Tom Mix suggested that Juanita should go into pictures. Her mother took this advice and hatched a plan for her daughter to wait near the entrance of famous silent film director D.W. Griffith's studio on Sunset Boulevard in hopes she would get noticed. Instead of waiting outside, she knocked on the door, and Griffith invited her in.

Griffith asked Horton many questions. Was her family rich? Did she have stage experience? Had she studied drama? When she answered "No, sir" to each question, he inquired why she wanted to be in pictures. "Mama said I wasn't trained to do anything," she replied, "so there was nothing left for me but acting." Griffith granted her an audition and a screen test, after which she was cast as an extra and paid $2. She would continue to work as an actress for the next 60 years.

Bessie Love and Charles King in the 1929 film The Broadway Melody. A Griffith associate, Frank Woods, gave her the stage name Bessie Love, claiming her real name was too long to go up in lights and no one east of the Rockies would know how to pronounce it.

In 1916, Griffith cast her in her first film, The Flying Torpedo, in which she played a Swedish maid. "In the early days," Love wrote in her memoir, "movie sets were built next to each other and, since the films were silent, you might be working next to a Civil War scene while you were playing a Carmelite nun at prayers. You just ignored the noise and got on with it."

Love made 10 films in her first year and played the leading lady opposite William S. Hart in The Aryan and Douglas Fairbanks in The Good Bad Man. A petite 5-footer with a mass of curly fair hair, Love possessed a combination of innocence and charm that drew audiences into theaters. Her star was on the rise.

By the Great Depression, she had acted in nearly 100 films, including such classics as Intolerance and The Lost World. She made the transition to "talkies," including 1929's The Broadway Melody, for which she received an Academy Award nomination.

Love married William Ballinger Hawks in 1929 and later toured the United States in a lavishly produced variety act. During the tour, she discovered she was pregnant, but the marriage didn't last. In 1935, when her daughter Patricia was 3, Love moved to London, returning to the states only briefly to seek a divorce.

Well into the 1980s, Bessie Love was a fixture on the stage in London and on British television. She died in London in 1986. Her star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame is a lasting testament to the little girl from Midland who became a movie star.

Martha Deeringer, a member of Heart of Texas EC, lives near McGregor.

Retro Recipes

DIY Takeout

BOWLS BRIMMING WITH COLORFUL salads (from slaw to potato), bubbling casseroles and platters of fried chicken -foods meant to bring and sharehave long been part of American culture. Golden Rice Salad, this month's retro recipe redux and a dish that appeared in the magazine in October 1968, is a perfect example. We've made the classic more contemporary with flavorful oils and vinegars and punchy additions like Dijon mustard, oil-cured olives and cornichons (feel free to use dill pickles or any pickled peppers instead). Consider this timeless preparation the next time you want to feed a crowd.

PAULA DISBROWE, FOOD EDITOR

Golden Rice Salad

- 1½ cups long-grain rice (such as Texmati)
- cup olive oil
- tablespoons white wine vinegar
- tablespoons Dijon mustard
- teaspoon kosher salt
- teaspoon freshly ground black pepper
- cup oil-cured olives, pitted and coarsely chopped
- hard-boiled eggs, sliced
- cups thinly sliced celery
- cup chopped cornichons (or other pickles)
- cup pimiento or roasted red
- small onion (or 1 bunch scallions), minced
- cup mayonnaise (plus more as desired for texture)
- Leaf lettuce or radicchio, for serving (optional)
- Sliced hard-boiled eggs, for garnish (optional)

THIS MONTH'S RECIPE CONTEST WINNER

GAIL PATTERSON | PENTEX ENERGY

Whether you use crusty rolls or an entire loaf to slice, layers of cured meats, cheese and piquant Italian flavors create a sandwich bursting with personality. Giardiniera is a vinegar-based relish made with peppers, celery, carrots, cauliflower and spices. "I make several of these at a time," Patterson says. "They last for about a week in the fridge, are best at room temp and travel well."

Pressed Italian Sandwich GIARDINIERA

- 1 jar (10 ounces) giardiniera, drained
- 2 tablespoons olive oil

Crushed red pepper flakes, as desired for heat

FLAVORED BUTTER

- jar (8 ounces) roasted red peppers (or pesto), drained
- ½ cup (1 stick) butter, softened to room temperature

SANDWICHES

- 4 ciabatta sandwich buns
- 4 slices Genoa salami
- 4 slices hard Italian salami
- 8 slices pepperoni
- 4 slices ham
- 8 slices provolone cheese

Olive oil

- 1. GIARDINIERA: Combine the giardiniera, olive oil and red pepper flakes in the bowl of a food processor and pulse until combined but still chunky. Transfer the giardiniera mixture to a bowl and set aside.
- 2. FLAVORED BUTTER: Add the roasted red peppers to the food processor (no need to wash after giardiniera) and process until chopped. Transfer the peppers (or pesto) to a mixing bowl, add the softened butter and use a spatula to evenly combine.

- 3. SANDWICHES: To make individual sandwiches, slice each ciabatta bun in half. Spread both sides with about 1 tablespoon of the flavored butter (you will have extra). Layer half of the meat and cheese on 4 ciabatta bun halves, ending with meat. Spoon about 1 tablespoon of the giardiniera mixture onto the meat and top each sandwich with the remaining meat and cheese and another tablespoon of giardiniera.
- 4. Cover each sandwich with the top bun and carefully slice the sandwiches in half and then wrap tightly in plastic wrap. Place the wrapped sandwiches on a baking sheet, top them with another baking sheet and weigh it down (large cans or a cast-iron skillet work well) for at least 1 hour, or up to a day in advance. For the best flavor, allow the sandwiches to come to room temperature before serving. ▶ Serves 4-8 depending on size of sandwiches.

2. Add the olives, eggs, celery, cornichons, pimientos, onion and mayonnaise and toss to combine. Taste and adjust seasonings, adding more salt, pepper, vinegar or mayonnaise as desired. Serve immediately (or chill up to two days in advance) on lettuce leaves garnished with slices of hard-boiled eggs. Serves 6–8.

COOK'S TIP For a deeper golden hue, add ½ teaspoon turmeric to the dressing. Consider garnishing each serving with freshly ground black pepper and a sprinkling of smoked paprika.

Best-Ever Baked Beans With Jalapeño Bacon

Serve these rich, bacon-topped beans at backyard barbecues and picnics or tote them to school or Scout potlucks—they'll be a hit with kids and grown-ups alike.

- 10 slices thick-cut jalapeño bacon (or regular bacon), diced
- 1 large yellow onion, diced
- bell pepper (any color), stemmed, seeded and chopped
- jalapeño pepper, stemmed, seeded and finely chopped
- 3 cloves garlic, minced
- 1 can (54 ounces) pork and beans
- 1/4 cup ketchup
- 1/4 cup molasses
- ½ cup light brown sugar
- 1/4 cup cider vinegar
- 2 tablespoons Dijon mustard
- ¼ cup hot sauce
- 1. Cook bacon in a large, deep skillet or Dutch oven over medium heat until it's browned but still moist, then set aside to drain on a paper towel.
- 2. Preheat oven to 325 degrees and set rack to the lower-middle position.
- 3. In the same skillet, heat 2 tablespoons of the bacon grease (discard the rest) over medium heat. Add the onion, bell pepper, jalapeño and garlic and sauté 6–8 minutes, until softened.
- 4. Add the remaining ingredients, stirring

$100 Recipe Contest

September's recipe contest topic is Happy Hours. We're kicking off fall with the best appetizers for game day, parties or family movie night. The deadline is April 10. Readers whose recipes are featured will receive a special Texas Co-op Power apron.

ENTER ONLINE at TexasCoopPower.com/contests; MAIL to 1122 Colorado St., 24th Floor, Austin, TX 78701; FAX to (512) 763-3401. Include your name, address and phone number, plus your co-op and the name of the contest you are entering.

to combine, and bring the mixture to a simmer over medium-high heat before removing from heat. Pour the beans into a baking dish and scatter the cooked bacon over the beans. Bake 2-21/2 hours, until the beans have reached your desired consistency. Allow the beans to stand at least 15 minutes before serving. ▶ Serves 10-12.

COOK'S TIP To feed an even larger crowd, up the amount of pork and beans to 84 ounces and make the remaining ingredients a "heaping" measurement.

Swiss Chard Slab Pie

I've toted this luscious, packed-with-greens pie on camping trips, taken it to potlucks, even knocked it out for weeknight dinners—happily anticipating the leftovers that are good hot or cold any time of day. The recipe is adapted from Kristin Donnelly's excellent Modern Potluck (Clarkson Potter, 2016). Sprinkling the top crust with flaky salt before baking gives it a delightful salty edge.

CRUST

- cups flour, plus more for dusting work surface
- 1 teaspoon kosher salt
- teaspoon coarsely ground black
- 11/4 cups (21/2 sticks) cold unsalted butter, cubed
- cup ice water

FILLING

- cup extra-virgin olive oil
- large red onion, finely chopped
- cloves garlic, thinly sliced Generous pinch red pepper flakes Kosher salt
- tablespoon ground coriander
- 1 tablespoon ground ginger
- 3 pounds red Swiss chard, leaves roughly chopped with stems reserved and cut into 1/4-inch pieces
- cup dry white wine
- tablespoons currants
- cup pine nuts
- cup sour cream or Greek yogurt Freshly ground black pepper, to taste
- egg, beaten with 1 tablespoon water Flaky salt, for garnish
- 1. CRUST: In a food processor, pulse flour with salt and pepper. Add butter and pulse until mixture resembles a coarse meal, with some large pieces of butter remaining. Sprinkle ice water on top and pulse just until dough comes together. Scrape onto a work surface, divide in half, and pat each half into a 6-inch square. Wrap in plastic wrap and chill for about an hour.

- 2. FILLING: In a large Dutch oven or pot, heat olive oil over medium-high heat. Add the onion, garlic, red pepper flakes and a pinch of salt, and cook, stirring occasionally, until the vegetables are just softened, about 5 minutes. Stir in the coriander, ginger and chard stems and cook until just softened, about 6 minutes. Stir in the wine and the currants and continue to cook until the liquid is reduced by half, about 8 minutes. Add the chard leaves in large handfuls, letting them wilt before adding more, then cook until the greens are tender and liquid has evaporated, about 5 minutes.
- 3. Transfer the chard mixture to a colander to cool completely and drain. When the mixture is cool, place it in a large mixing bowl with the pine nuts and sour cream, season with salt and pepper, and use a rubber spatula to combine.

- 4. Heat oven to 400 degrees. Line a large rimmed baking sheet with parchment. On a lightly floured work surface, roll out one piece of dough to a 12-by-16inch rectangle. Use a bench scraper and a rolling pin to transfer the dough to the prepared baking sheet. Spread the chard filling evenly, leaving a 1-inch border. Roll out remaining dough and drape it over the filling. Fold the rim over itself and pinch edges to seal. Cut a few slits in the top of the pie, brush with egg wash and sprinkle with flaky salt.
- 5. Bake the pie 50–55 minutes, until the crust is golden and cooked through. For the best slicing results, let the pie cool for at least 15 minutes before cutting and then serve it warm or at room temperature. ► Serves 8-10.

COOK'S TIP To avoid any traces of grit in the filling, wash the red Swiss chard leaves and stems carefully.

Bible-Powered Flight

The Ezekiel Airship may have made man's first flight in 1902 near Pittsburg

CHET GARNER shares his Texplorations as the host of The Daytripper on PBS.

TEXAS IS NO STRANGER TO TALL TALES -whether it's Pecos Bill riding cyclones in the desert or sightings of a familiar ape-man in the East Texas pines. Some of these stories were clearly created for the campfire, while others are so crazy they just might be true. The story of the Ezekiel Airship is one of the latter.

Even though Ohio and North Carolina bicker over who can claim the Wright brothers and their legendary first flight in 1903, it may be that Texas beat them both.

On a cold day in December, I walked into the Northeast Texas Rural Heritage Center in Pittsburg, not knowing what to expect. Of course, I found the typical collection of antique farming equipment and old photographs. But what I didn't expect was a full-sized aircraft hanging from the ceiling. It is a replica of the Ezekiel Airship, which local legend claims was the first aircraft in the world to carry a human into flight. But how could this be? I had never even heard of it, much less heard of the Baptist preacher named Burrell Cannon who built it. And so my education began.

Cannon, also a part-time mechanic, moved to Texas in the late 1800s. Inspired by a passage from Old Testament prophet Ezekiel about flying creatures and wheels within wheels, Cannon set out to design an aircraft. Given his solid reputation as a talented mechanic, and no doubt his charisma and salesmanship, Cannon was able to raise $20,000 to fund his newly created Ezekiel Airship Manufacturing Company.

Within a few months, Cannon had finished his contraption, which donned a huge fabric canopy and eight wheels. If all worked as planned, a small gasoline engine would turn the wheels, which would rotate connected paddles and thereby push air into the canopy and lift the pilot off the ground.

As the story goes, one afternoon in 1902, two shop employees were testing the aircraft when the unthinkable happened: It flew! The airship carried unsuspecting pilot Gus Stamps about 160 feet at an altitude of 10 to 15 feet. Fearing the machine was about to crash, the pilot shut off the engine, cleared a fence and landed safely in a nearby field.

The event was allegedly witnessed only by the shop workers and a couple of children who happened to be walking by. Not even Cannon saw the flight, as he was busy preaching at a local church. To keep the developments secret until the proper time, nobody spoke publicly of the flight. No photographs were taken and no newspaper stories were written.

Cannon's grand idea was to transport the airship to the 1904 World's Fair in Chet Garner ponders a flight in the 1902 Fzekiel Airship.

St. Louis. However, while the craft sat on a railcar near Texarkana, a thunderous storm passed through and laid the airship to waste.

Since that series of events, the debate has raged on. The young children who witnessed the flight eventually became old and, until their passing, never ceased sharing the story of how they saw the great airship fly. Cannon did attempt to rebuild the machine, but in 1913, his second model crashed into a utility pole and that was the end.

Is it true? Well, you know Texans never let the facts get in the way of a good story. However, if you ask the locals whether or not the airship flew on that eventful day in 1902, they'll tell you that "if grandma said it flew, then it definitely flew!" And that's good enough for me. Because if you can't trust grandma, who can you trust?
